

Supporting Your Dogs Health With PureFlax Linseed/ Flaxseed Oil

PureFlax Flax Seed Oil for Dogs is an essential supplement to your dogs feed, as many commercial dog foods do not provide the “good fats” necessary for healthy skin and coat that your dog needs. PureFlax Oil has between 54% & 58% Omegas 3 content, with balanced levels of Omega 6. It is fully sustainable, 100% Natural and is Field to Bottle in just 400 yards. From only 4p per day, PureFlax Oil is a highly palatable & nutritious addition to any meal.

Supplementing your dogs feed with Flax Oil (also known as Linseed Oil or Flaxseed Oil) is a great way of adding important essential fatty acids to your dog’s diet. Omega 3 & Omega-6 are known as Essential Fatty Acids (EFA) and are best diet or from additional supplements.

- Supports mobility and flexibility
- Improves the palatability of dried food
- Promotes a healthy skin
- Improves coat condition
- High in Omega 3, promotes healthy joints
- Supports the immune system
- Beneficial for cognitive health

Supporting Your Dogs Health With PureFlax Linseed/ Flaxseed Oil

- Helps reduce recovery time after exercise
- Helps minimise muscle fatigue
- Spares glucose to be directed to aid muscle protein generation
- Aids topline condition
- Highly digestible
- Anti fizz
- May provide support in cases of cancer in dogs and heart disease

Why Choose PureFlax

Other vegetable oils available may be cheaper, but many are heat-treated or have chemicals added (either in the growing or in production) therefore they will not deliver the same benefits as PureFlax.

As a vegetable based oil, cold pressed PureFlax flax seed oil is a slow-release energy source which is – unlike some other oils – easy for dogs to digest and is a good source of Omega-6 Flax Seed Oil and one of the few vegetable sources that contains Omega-3.

Almost all blended oils are subjected to a heat extraction process with destroys most of the goodness leaving you feeding extra calories – but few other benefits – to your dog. If it doesn't say cold pressed on the bottle the oil will be heat or chemically extracted.

British, 100% Natural, Traceable & Fresh

Field to Bottle in just 400 yards, British Linseed and Fully Traceable. Grown and bottled on the PureFlax Farm in Yorkshire.

Supporting Your Dogs Health With PureFlax Linseed/ Flaxseed Oil

Preserving Natural Goodness

The cold-pressing technique used in the manufacture of PureFlax Flax Seed Oil preserves all the nutritional benefit of our oil.

No heat or chemicals are added to the seed or the oil at any stage – it is just cold-pressed and filtered. Just by smelling the oil you can tell how natural the product is.

Freshness Guaranteed

The key to great tasting flaxseed oil for your animals is the freshness.

This is why PureFlax Flax Seed Oil is pressed in small batches, so it when it reaches you, it is not already months old.

